Where can you find new, modern furniture that lasts a lifetime? Wildspirit creates sturdy and timeless furniture pieces with strong and playful designs.

Multi-functionality, craftsmanship and a combined use of the highest-quality wood, fabric and calf leather is the soul of the Wildspirit collection. The goal of owners An Danneels and Tom Corthals is to convert innovative ideas into signature pieces. "We create items that match all kinds of interiors, from minimalistic to modern and from timeless to classic," explains An Danneels. "All pieces are created by designers who turn every single piece of furniture into a true example of perfection."

Wildspirit's basic collection consists of families of chairs, tables, stools and more, available in a variety of heights and different kinds of wood. By using solid wood only, such as American walnut, they aim for the ultimate quality. An Danneels: "Our chairs are easily customizable too. You can have them upholstered with a gorgeous fabric or beautifully finished calf leather of choice, so you can create your own unique luxury seat."

The beautiful Play chair is one of Wildspirit's most popular items and is already a ten-year-old classic. "It's an elegant and contemporary chair made from one piece of tree trunk, and is easily stackable and super comfortable," explains An Danneels. The chairs have found their way to impressive locations all over the world, from the Google lounge in San Francisco to the flagship Louis Vuitton store in Tokyo. Their latest product, the Arch, might just follow in the Play chair's footsteps. An Danneels: "It's a comfortable chair that supports the back which makes it a very pleasant chair to sit on during – for instance – long, cosy evenings at the dining table."

All furniture sprouts from the creative minds of talented, independent and mostly Belgian designers. Besides chairs, they have also designed a multifunctional, drum-shaped side table and stool, a cake-shaped outdoor pouf and even a stylish dog bed. All of these items are designed within the spirit of Wildspirit: out-of-the-box, refreshing and timeless.

The Wildspirit products are available through third parties such as design firms. Curious about the collection? Make an appointment to visit their showroom in Knokke, or visit their stand at the Biennale Interior Fair in the Belgian city of Kortrijk in October.
